

Waterloo Field Target Club

October 1, 2000 Match

The drive to Waterloo on Sunday morning was the most trying part of the day, actually the only trying part of the day. To say it was foggy would be a huge understatement. Thank goodness the traffic lights were all green and no one seemed to be in front of us. The temperature was 48(when we arrived at 8:30 AM, but by the 10:00 AM start time it was close to 60(and most of the fog had burned off. The day actually turned out beautiful, with temperatures at about 70(and clear skies. It was windy, but what the heck, it was October.

With the wind, long shots at 50 – 55 yards did prove to be the tough ones. The wooded area where the lanes are located was a great place to spend some time with good friends and to shoot airguns. It just doesn't get a whole lot better than that. With such a small turn out, the day went quickly and Dennis was presented with a frozen turkey as the top shooter. Our Thanksgiving up here in Canada was on October 9, so it seemed a fitting award. With this match being the last full match of the season and shot in almost ideal weather conditions, I was very surprised at the small turnout. I sincerely hope the whole crew will show up for our Christmas fun shoot and again in the spring when the new season starts.
