

Waterloo Field Target Club Results for July 23, 2006

The day started out with some wind and scattered clouds, with a higher threat of rain as the day progressed. The course difficulty was just over 27 on the T-scale, but targets rated up to 60 in difficulty made the course more challenging than that number would suggest.

Over the first thirty shots, the top four in the PCP division were all within a shot or two, setting the stage for the final thirty shots. Josh and James Jackson were both shooting well and would continue that way for the remainder of the match. Magdy's scope numbers seemed a little off, causing some difficulty for him. George's scope did not repeat well and he struggled as well. Justin, at his first field target match, found that iron sights and low power make it very difficult to put the pellets in the kill zone. He plans on mounting a scope and getting a power boost for his gun.

The second half of the match did not bring much change. In the PCP division, I was shooting clean, until the last lane that I set up myself. For some reason (choke), I missed a couple shots on that lane. The score of 58/60 was the top for the day, while Don and Mike both shot 55/60 to force a shootout for second and third and Dennis was just one shot back with a 54/60. Mike won the shootout to claim second.

In the piston class, James claimed top spot with a 43/60, followed closely by Josh with a 39/60 and George found a way to knock down 37/60 in spite of a faulty scope.

Hans and Noel were on their second last lane when the rain hit and did not finish the match.

Thanks to everyone who set up lanes and helped to tear them down. See you next time.
